

FLORASCOPE

Occasional News from the Flora of Virginia Project

YOUR GIFT

It keeps the Flora of Virginia current

There are now more than 5,500 copies of the Flora of Virginia in use—and 2,000 copies of the Flora of Virginia Mobile App in people's pockets. This means a lot of folks like you in Virginia (or Maryland or West Virginia or Delaware or North Carolina) are using the Flora's extensive and compelling contents and capabilities.

PLEASE HELP US KEEP IT CURRENT

We ask for your help about twice a year, because keeping this material current is one of our biggest tasks, and we must raise all our own funds. Authors have completed sorting out which species will be added and which will be moved or get new scientific names. Other botanists have been writing descriptions for a number of those species. Some of these botanists volunteer their time, but we must compensate other contributors. To help us do that, please give generously, so we can meet our goal of $30,000. There's plenty of time to donate before the curtain falls on 2019. Below are links to our autumn appeal, for more information on our work. Thank you very much!

LETTER

Click here to read how environmental consultant Ben Sagara uses the Flora App.

BROCHURE

Click here to read the brochure for our autumn appeal.

DONATE

Click here for our donation card, which you can print out and mail to us with your gift. Or click below to give now, on our website.

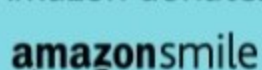

SMILE

Amazon Smile gives to the Flora when you shop there

If you shop Amazon on Amazon Smile (smile.amazon.com), they'll give the Flora of Virginia Project 0.5% of the price of eligible items. At regular Amazon prices. For us, this started small, but this past quarter we received almost $25! At no cost to shoppers: it was Amazon's gift. Click below to learn more and designate the Flora of Virginia Project as the charity you'd like them to support. Thanks!

#1 holiday hack:

When you shop at smile.amazon.com, Amazon donates.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS, AND THANK YOU!

Flora illustration of Ilex opaca by Lara Call Gastinger © Flora of Virginia Project. Color added.

